PRICE FIVE CENTS

WHY ALL OF US SHOULD BE GRATEFUL THIS DAY

Cornelius Cole, who celebrated his one-hundredth birthday recently, was a distinguished and an active figure in the public life of the United States for sixty years.

BY EX-SENATOR COLE

Having lived in this land dedicated to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness for more than 100 years, I am perhaps entitled to say what I believe the nation has to be grateful for at this Thanksgiving season, namely:

That we weathered the most disastrous of all wars with so little real distress, and that we are not under the appalling shadow which hangs over so many of the earth's less fortunate people.

That we have come again into an era of general prosperity and stability out of threatened chaos.

That the principles upon which the United States was founded—a government by the majority, built upon the rights with which all human beings are endowed—have not been shaken by recent internal and external events.

That the spread of these principles throughout the world—a spread which is sure, though slow in spots—presages a time when all nations will live in perpetual amity together.

That there are no more lays than already pester us in attempting to dictate and regulate our thought and conduct. (Goodness knows there are too many already, and that our government should be far simpler.)

That the women, bless them, are doing better than I, for one, expected, in using their responsibility of franchise for sound, constructive policies.

That this young and sometimes bewildered nation is developing such sound common sense, in the main, as it approaches its age of maturity, in both domestic and foreign relationships.

That, summing it all up, perhaps the fathers of our country would not need to be alarmed or ashamed if they could see how nearly we of today have followed their vision in realizing their splendid ideals of a free government.

FIRE DAMAGES SHIP'S CABIN

Texas Co.'s Solitaire Gets Afire at Sea

LAMP FALLS, CAUSE

Compartment Aft Gutted: Thousands Damage

Flames breaking out in the stateroom of the third assistant engineer on the Texas Company's motor vessel Solitaire while the vessel was off the Florida straits four days ago, damaged the ship to the extent of several thousand dollars, gutting the stateroom and destroying the furnishings in the compartment and causing several hundred cables used in connection with the ship's electrical control, it was stated by T. Cornick, superintendent of the Marine department of the Texas Company here, when the Solitaire arrived in Port Arthur Wednesday.

The fire started when a portable light fell and broke in a pile of paint scrapings that piled up in the stateroom, Mr. Cornick said. Although the blaze gained headway rapidly, the crew of the vessel got it under control in a short time, it was stated.

At the time of the fire the vessel had no cargo aboard, Mr. Cornick said, and as the engineers' quarters are all, the Solitaire was not in danger of serious damage.

Washburne Offers Aid in Revision Of Mailing Lists

With the object of eliminating postal congestion due to use of old or inaccurate mailing lists by business firms, Postmaster Washburne and employees at the local postoffice stand ready to re-operate with business firms in the correction and revision of their lists, according to an announcement.

In cases where the time required in the revision consumes less than 30 minutes, no charge will be made. For a longer period of time, a nominal charge is fixed under the postal regulations.

Coupled with this is a suggestion to railroad and express officials to make all possible effort in giving the full address of consignees of shipments in order that the notice cards may be delivered promptly, and the delivery of the consignments speeded up thereby.

DAREDEVILS IN FLYING CIRCUS

Will Cavort Over Field While Grid Game Plays

While the Pirates and Baylor College on Lake Shore Park football field this afternoon, R. L. (Daredevil) Barry and Pilot D. H. Broussard will cavort above the field in the air over the field.

The flying circus is being staged here this afternoon under the auspices of the Port Arthur Vulture, 40 and 60 American Legion, and a representative of a collection taken by the Legion for the benefit of the fund will go into the "40 and 60" treasury.

Barry, a former army flyer, piloted the plane which fell at the South Texas state fair in Baytown several weeks ago when Mrs. Ben Jackson, wife of the president of the fair association, was injured. This fall at Beaumont was the second Barry has experienced in his flying career, he says. The other fall was in Belgium when he was a member of the 34th pursuit squadron.

Swings from Plane
Swinging by his toes from the end of a 10-foot ladder suspended by the plane, taking 160 miles an hour, is Barry's principal stunt, he reports.

While an instructor in the flying corps of President Obregon's army, Barry decided upon the stunt flying game as a permanent occupation, he says. At the present time he is working towards California, where, he states, he hopes to fly in the movies.

ROACHES START D. T. S.
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 30.—"I've got 'em again," screamed a drunken prisoner in city jail, as a stream of white roaches came pouring from the floor of his cell. And it took four prisoners, a cop and the warden to quiet him long enough so they could explain that the bugs fell into a bucket of white paint during redecoration of the jail.

Thanksgiving Meant Something in This Woman's Sweet Life

A noisy song of Thanksgiving was rendered in Woolworth's a day ahead of the regularly ordained day for giving thanks when a Mexican woman recovered a purse, reported to have contained $200, on a counter where she had left it an hour before while shopping in the store. Several of her companions joined in the chorus and for a time the noise of the "Jubilant" in Mexican created considerable excitement among the clerks and customers. It was reported Wednesday night.

DENNIS AVANT FUNERAL FRIDAY

Prominent Real Estate Man Ill a Week

Funeral services for Dennis D. Avant, 40 years, prominent real estate business, who died Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the M. J. Gates hospital, will be conducted Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock from Grammer's funeral chapel, Rev. C. W. Culp, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiating. Burial will be made in City cemetery, under the direction of J. E. Grammer, undertaker.

Mr. Avant had resided in Port Arthur since 1913, engaging in the grocery business when he first came here, and later going into the real estate business. He came to this city from Bon Ami, La., and with his mother, Mrs. Alice Avant, made his home at 1100 Eleventh street.

Besides his mother, Mr. Avant is survived by three brothers, Irvin, Port Arthur, Russell of Shreveport, La., and Earl of Woodlawn, Texas, and two sisters, Mrs. W. C. Green of Hot Springs, Ark., and Mrs. Dr. J. C. Miller of Bon Ami, La.

Port Arthur Turns Entire Attention To Thanksgiving

With the business section closed down tight as a drum, and with few people to be seen on the streets in the forenoon, Port Arthur was apparently Thursday morning turning its entire attention toward the observance of Thanksgiving—either in staying at home and enjoying rest and anticipation of the heavily laden Thanksgiving table, on a holiday hunting trip, or attending the Thanksgiving services.

Three Church Services
The services included those ordered in the rituals of the Episcopal and Roman Catholic churches, while the other churches joined in a union Thanksgiving service at the First Methodist church.

More activity is anticipated for the afternoon, with the principal attraction the gridiron struggle between the Port Arthur Pirates, and an eleven recruited from the second and the freshman teams of Baylor University expected to draw the record attendance of the season.

In spite of the fact that Baylor teams are scheduled to play three games today, the wealth of material at the Baptist school is such that the team sent here is certain to make the Pirates' lineup to keep their season's record clean.

The Baylor team will be led by Biggs, giant tackle, and former star at Austin college, who is ineligible for the varsity at Baylor this year through the one year transfer rule.

Holiday auto drives after the Thanksgiving dinner, with the special theater attractions, are expected to draw crowds to the downtown streets, decorated for the business carnival, and to give the real holiday setting to the day.

IRISH HANG THREE

DUBLIN, Nov. 30.—Three rebels were executed this morning, the free state government officially announced. No details were given out.

Today's Football Results

The office of the Daily News will be closed this afternoon in order that the employees may have the opportunity to enjoy Thanksgiving and for this reason it will be necessary for patrons to postpone their calls for grid results until after 5:30 this afternoon.

While Turkey Day games are few in numbers, they are rather important, the principal ones being: Port Arthur Pirates vs. Baylor (second team), Texas vs. A. and M., Baylor vs. S. M. U., Trinity vs. Austin, Auburn vs. Georgia Tech, Notre Dame vs. Nebraska and Cornell vs. Pennsylvania.

KING OF GREECE HELD PRISONER

Activities to Save 6 Statesmen, Cause

REBELS ANGERED

King, Disgusted, Wished to Leave Greece

PARIS, Nov. 30.—King George of Greece is held prisoner in his palace by the revolutionary authorities who executed former Premier Gounaris and other statesmen Tuesday, according to a Belgrade dispatch to the Matin today.

This dispatch states that the king made every effort to prevent the execution of five former ministers and the general who commanded the Greek army when it was defeated by Mustafa Kemal. His activities in their behalf roused the ire of the revolutionary authorities. Their anger was increased when, immediately after the death sentences were carried out, he requested that he be permitted to leave Greece. In reply to this the revolutionary committee put a guard over him.

George, a son of King Constantine, became ruler of Greece when his father fled after the great Turkish victories. Prince Andrew, brother of Constantine, is held in Athens and is expected to be placed on trial shortly by the revolutionaries.

Mexican Conference Will Not Discuss Recent Disturbances

Recent disturbances in some places in the state have nothing to do with the Convention conference of the Mexican colony at the Old Fellows hall tonight, according to a statement by S. J. Trevino, Mexican consul, who will be the speaker.

The meeting is simply one of the regular educational monthly lectures to the Mexican people, started by the consul last July, he says. Explanation of laws, in connection with the meeting, are not particularly directed to laws of Texas, but are of an educational nature, explaining the basic principles of all laws, and the advantage of law abiding on the part of all citizens.

JURY AT OUTS

Disagree in Third Trial of Arthur Burch

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 30.—The fifth of the extended trials growing from the killing of J. Bolton Kennedy, broker, ended when the jury disagreed in the third trial of Arthur C. Burch last night.

It is reported the state will dismiss the murder charge against Burch and also that against Madeline Obenchain who is alleged to have been implicated in the killing.

The defense has spent thousands of dollars fighting the murder allegations against Burch and Mrs. Obenchain. The woman has been tried twice and her third trial is scheduled to start shortly.

HAVE YOU LOST A BICYCLE? CALL 126

Efforts to locate the owners of two recovered bicycles are being made by the police, it was announced at headquarters this morning. One of the bicycles is being held for identification at police headquarters, and information regarding the other one will be given at the police station, it was stated.

SALVATION ARMY DRIVE ENDS

TEMPLE, Texas, Nov. 30.—A three days' campaign for funds for the Salvation Army closed hereafter $411 had been collected or pledged by local residents. The quota assigned the city was $750 and related reports of workers are expected to make up the difference.

EXTRA

BEAUMONT WOMAN IS KILLED, TWO INJURED WHEN AUTO TURNS OVER

BEAUMONT, Nov. 30.—Only a few hours after the dawn of Thanksgiving Day the life of Mrs. Fannie Dyes of this city was snuffed out and her husband and another seriously injured in an automobile accident which occurred on the Beaumont-Houston road about eight miles west of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Dyes, together with their son, Woodrow, aged 3, and the mother of the deceased woman, Mrs. Kingston, had started to some early morning to spend the holiday. According to the meager details which the survivors were able to give, Mr. Dyes, who was driving, lost control of the car on the slippery road, with the result that it plunged into the deep ditch and overturned on the occupants.

Only the little son escaped injury. Drowsily extricated the injured ones from the wreckage and they were at once rushed to a hospital here. Mrs. Dyes sustained such injuries of the head and chest that she died shortly after her arrival at the hospital. Her husband, J. D. Dyes, suffered contusions and abrasions of the head, although it is believed that he will recover. Mrs. Kingston's injuries, although serious, are not regarded as fatal. That Woodrow Dyes was not even scratched or bruised seems little short of miraculous, in view of the fact that the car was traveling at such speed that it was into the ditch with great force.

FEDERAL COURT NEW POISON IS YEARS BEHIND CANDY PLOT

If Defendants Fought Cases It Would Take 5 Years

Special to The News.
BEAUMONT, Nov. 30.—With the end of the second week of federal court here, and with a record of 32 cases disposed of in excess of the number of new cases filed during the two weeks, it is apparent here that if the same rate was maintained steadily the court, sitting here the whole year round, would with difficulty stay ahead of the non-contested cases.

Should the defendants—usually liquor law offenders, fight their cases, instead of pleading guilty, as 132 have in the past two weeks, the task of the court would be hopeless, and the court five years behind in a little time. For while the 132 cases were being disposed of on a plea of guilty, 106 new cases were filed. Nearly 450 cases were on the criminal docket at the court when the term started.

This slow headway over the new cases has been in spite of longer hours to court than is used in the courts, Judge Estes running overtime at both noon and evening sessions. Of the 132 cases which he has heard, 122 have been disposed of by fine or imprisonment, 11 dismissed, and two defendants discharged.

In this connection attorneys here declare that the assistant United States attorney stationed at Beaumont could with a little extra work, save considerable time in the handling of the docket, to say nothing of a great deal of time to the witnesses and jurors, who have had to sit in the court room day after day without any of the cases they are witnesses in even being called.

Diphtheria Tests Fail to Indicate Infection Spread

Cultures made from the throats of 25 school children in rooms from which diphtheria was recently reported, all tested negative, according to an announcement by Dr. Paul Reed, city physician, Thursday. The experiment, regarded as an important one by health authorities, is interpreted in a very favorable light.

The examinations will be carried forward right away in every quarter in which there is thought to be the slightest danger of exposure and infection until it is definitely determined that the carrier is located and isolated.

NEW MEMBERS SECURED
LIVINGSTON, Texas, Nov. 30.—Dividing the town into six sections, Mrs. J. S. Coates, membership chairman of the Parent-Teachers' association, with a number of helpers, made a thorough canvass of the Livingston school district, securing fifty new members for the local organization.

Called It Off

At the eleventh hour, the wedding of Brenda Bond, Boston society girl now on the New York stage, to Jack Payne Smith, a Back Bay clubman, was cancelled. Mutual acquaintances was Miss Bond's only explanation.

BRIDGE WORK TO BE SUSPENDED

Steel Shortage Responsible, Says Erwin

When work of building conference room building pier for the additional pier bridge span is completed Friday, work on the structure will be indefinitely suspended because of lack of steel for the structure, M. C. Erwin, city engineer, told the commission Wednesday afternoon.

It is impossible to make any kind of an estimate when work on the bridge will be resumed. Mr. Erwin stated because of traffic conditions and congestion in the steel industrial centers.

Trouble is being experienced by the contractors lifting the 10-ton concrete beam out of the canal. Mr. Erwin said. Wooden piles embedded in the concrete and the mud at the bottom of the canal are preventing difficult work for the engineer.

As far as hiring the beam out of the water is concerned, the work has been ended but the problem of getting it out on the bank with the piles embedded in it and the mud is proving a problem, he said.

Nursery "Kiddies" Have Turkeys Sent By Jewish Women

Thanksgiving is being celebrated with much happiness by the kiddies at the Day Nursery for they have all the turkey and trimmings necessary for a Thanksgiving feast.

The Council of Jewish Women yesterday sent to the Day Nursery a turkey, two chickens, two geese, a large basket of fruit, nuts and candies, and enough candy for the turkey.

In addition to this donation to the Day Nursery, the Council of Jewish Women sent a basket of fruit, nuts and candies to their ward which they have adopted at Mary Gates hospital.

DALLAS, Nov. 30.—Mrs. Mary Lee Howell, 23, was dead here today from injuries received when she was struck by the fender of a passing truck and seriously injured here last night.

Miss Howell was rushed to a hospital but died several hours after the accident. Thomas Shannon, driver of the truck surrendered to authorities and was released on his own recognizance.

FIND MISSING WOMAN'S BODY BURIED IN LOT

Seven-Year-Old Mystery Is Partially Cleared

HUSBAND HELD

Garage Man Believed to Be in Plot

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—The body of a woman, dead seven months, was the mute witness today against two witnesses suspected of being the murderer of Mrs. Jennie Becker.

One of the men is Abraham Becker, the other is Robin Norkin, a garage proprietor. Both are held in jail. The body was dug up by police last night in a vacant lot near the Norkin garage.

Denies Body Is Wife's
There is no evidence against the men save the fact that Mr. Becker disappeared—and her corpse was found buried in a lot seven months later. So far, the body is the sole witness and Becker denies it is the corpse of his wife.

Mrs. Becker disappeared last April, just after going on an automobile ride with her husband. The last person to see them together said that Becker stated he was going to drive with his wife to Norkin's garage.

After the disappearance, Becker—who is a chauffeur—gave out that he believed his wife had run away to Philadelphia. A few days later, the police say, he put his four children in an orphan asylum and began "running around" with a young, unmarried woman. They have questioned this woman and she says Becker told her his wife had left him and that he was free to wed.

Suspicion
Becker and finally detectives decided to hunt the corpse in the vacant lot beside Norkin's garage.

Skull Fractured
The uniformed men slowly unearthed a mass that turned out to be the body of a woman, bound hand and foot, wrapped in coarse cloth, which was eaten with quicklime. At the Fordham morgue surgeons discovered fractures of the skull.

District Attorney Glennon said today a grand jury investigation would be started at once and that he believed he would secure one or more independent witnesses. Norkin is understood to have been a close friend of Becker. He was cross examined by police for several hours before being spirited digging in the lot beside his garage.

Grammer, undertaker, for burial.

ARKANSAS NOT ENTIRELY SLOW

Leads Union in Co-operative Marketing

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 30.—Arkansas already stands among the leaders in co-operative marketing of its farm products, despite the fact that the system was only recently started, according to Aaron Karpis, San Francisco attorney, who has been active in organizing the movement throughout the country.

Arkansas, beyond any other state, has studied, has grasped the fundamental necessity of having these co-operative organizations supported by men of large business capacity and long experience," Karpis said.

Karpis spoke with confidence of the future of co-operative marketing.

"It is the only efficient method," he declared. "The traditional large-scale individual marketing of their products by farmers, broken out, and they may work out, as nothing but a dumping of surplus on the market with minimum profit and frequent loss to the producers. The new method merely substitutes sound merchandising for that dumping."

Kissed Old Maids Made One Speech, Candidate Reports

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—The kissing of a few "old maids" and the hearing of a few "old maids" among the crowd of thousands who gathered at the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D. C., on Wednesday, was the only thing that happened at the annual convention of the National Union of Women's Suffrage Societies, which was held at the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D. C., on Wednesday.

After stating that the convention was the largest ever held in the city, the speaker said that the convention was the largest ever held in the city.

ROUGH ON RATS USED TO MAKE BAD BOOZE

GRAPTON, W. Va., Nov. 30.—The seizure of several bags of rough on rats in Taylor county has prompted Charles H. Little, inspector and former federal prohibition field officer for West Virginia, to issue a warning against moonshine liquor that is peddled about in this section.

"A drink of liquor from one of these moonshine stills," he said, "would kill the strongest man in the county."

Less than one per cent of drinkable liquor is being sold in the county, he declared.

Analysis of liquor confiscated showed that "rough on rats" having emulsions and be were mixed in it.

HE'S VERY, VERY HUMAN, THIS BRISTLING TIGER FROM FRANCE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—United States talks are going to be tickled tremendously by Georges Clemenceau, known as a real character. "Everything you read about him betrays a very real character," he said.

Take that line they tell of Clemenceau. While premier of France he used to get up early in the morning. He didn't like to stir his anemic woman servant out of bed at the hour he considered suitable for himself, so he lay upon this scheme for his breakfast. The man let his private man a job of not going before he went to bed, then he used this hot jug the way one of us used to use a hot jug on cold nights, the way many food just use hot water bottles now—to keep his feet warm.

Next morning he received the jug from under the blankets and there was his soup for his breakfast.

Life was easy.

The first time I ever saw the Tiger was on a details morning in the middle of a barn lot near La Ferté-Macaire, not far from the River Marne. This barn lot, with the stable and cow sheds surrounding it, formed the headquarters of the Social Division. Clemenceau had arrived to congratulate the doughboys and their officers for having topped the German push toward Paris.

Another thing I saw him under very different circumstances. It was in the anteroom of the foreign office on the Quai d'Orsay, at the end of the firstenary session of the peace conference. Present were Winston Churchill, Arthur Balfour, Clemenceau and a few of his minor characters.

Balfour was being held by an attendant in his hat, a nice new and very shiny topper.

"Nice hat you got, Balfour," said
